Headline:
Sunny spells and scattered snow showers. Very cold.

Today:
A dry day for some in the west with plenty of sunny spells, though scattered light snow showers will continue to feed into the region from the east all day. Remaining cold with bitter winds giving a strong wind chill. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Tonight:
Scattered snow showers this evening, becoming more widespread and often heavy overnight. Otherwise some clear spells, with widespread frost and risk of ice. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
Plenty of sunny spells, especially in the west. However, snow showers will feed in from the east, some turning heavy. Very cold with chill winds. Widespread frost early and late. Maximum temperature 2 deg C (36 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
On Tuesday and Wednesday expect a mix of sunny spells and scattered snow showers. Showers ease on Thursday to drier, brighter weather. Continuing to be very cold with widespread frost.
